

Colette Bailey

Colette Bailey is Managing Director of the arts organisation Metal Culture Ltd since the company's inception in 2002. She brings extensive experience of working in large scale public arenas via public art consultancy, exhibitions, participatory design projects and education projects.

Colette's professional experience is mainly in the Visual Arts and she was managing director of the Royal Society of British Sculptors (RBS) from 1998 - 2002. She is a freelance writer and commentator on the arts and has published articles in a number of journals and publications. Colette is based at Metal in Southend on Sea.